

Has methane in the atmosphere increased, decreased, or stayed the same?

How much of a problem is methane for the climate?

